El Dorado used their strong pitching to turn back all challengers and win its fifth championship and first in the modern wood era. Outside of a 9-6 win over Katy (TX) in the first round; the Broncos allowed no team to score more than three runs. El Dorado also won its final three games in its last at bat (or two), and won just one game by more than three runs. The Broncos' work in holding tournament juggernaut Anchorage (AK) to one run over 11 innings in the championship game was also impressive.
