Santa Barbara rebounded from last year's fourth-place finish to capture its third championship in the past four years and fifth overall since the Foresters won their first title in 2006. Other than a 9-7 setback to Hays in the third round, Santa Barbara allowed no more than three runs in any contest and scored no fewer than five runs in each game.

The championship game, in which the Foresters bested the Seattle Studs for the third time in three meetings in the finals, can be considered a classic in that neither team led by more than a run, and Santa Barbara broke the deadlock with a run in the 12th inning.

Santa Barbara may consider Wichita a "home away from home", but the Foresters were the visiting team in all six games.
